Northwestern Center for Public Safety provides the highest caliber education available for law enforcement supervisors and managers. The Management journey begins with Supervision of Police Personnel.

Supervision of Police Personnel (SPP) teaches essential supervisory and managerial skills to first-line supervisors. Designed for officers with little or no formal supervisory training, our authoritative curriculum focuses on such critical topics as:

- Day-to-day work relationships with subordinates, superiors, and the public;
- Managing the common leadership challenges that law enforcement supervisors encounter;
- Understanding human behavior as it relates to law enforcement management.

Students complete this two-week course with the understanding that knowing what action to take — and how to implement that action — can be the difference between success or failure on the street or in the office.
