

Trauma-Informed Leadership for Law Enforcement:

Real-World Strategies That Work

A 3-day program built for current and aspiring law enforcement leaders who are expected to lead in high-stakes, high-impact situations. Earn a Trauma-Informed Leadership credential from the University of Denver.

June 22, 23, and 24

8:30 AM – 5:00 PM

University of Denver (In person)

Course instructors include:

- Jack Cauley, Chief, Castle Rock Police Department
- Matthew Domenico, Chief, Brighton Police Department
- Scott Snow, Retired Director of Crisis Services, Denver Police Department
- Anne DePrince, Professor, University of Denver
- Anastasiya Bolton, Emmy Award-Winning Journalist, LE Media & Crisis Comms Trainer
- Linda Johnston, EAW Project Director, Colorado District Attorneys' Council

Cost:

$150 (Law enforcement personnel working in Colorado: Enter Colorado50 for a $50 discount at registration)

Learn More:

bit.ly/4tNFbJg_

Space is limited! Register today:

bit.ly/4ceEV09

